Mother, MoMo, Grandma, MaMa Carolyn, and GG were the names that her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren endeared her with. These were all names for her greatest quality.....LOVE. There are many other friends of her children and grandchildren whom she adopted along the way that consider her their second mother. She never met a stranger and if you met her, you loved her. She was the glue that connected and held all of her family together. Her love for her family and people in general was modeled after Jesus' love for each of us. She had a passion and love for our Lord that was profound and contagious. Her greatest wish was that her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren would continue to love each other as much as she loved each of them.
