“ Cindy, I am sorry to hear the news about Bill. I know you were the love of his life. I'll miss the discussions of all things Dallas Cowboys with him. I first met Bill when we both worked for TEEEX in 1996. He was the East Texas Regional manager and I supported him and the 23 counties NE Texas. Some of my best work professionally was at TEEEX working with Bill solving problems for area companies. We complimented each other well. Bill was a calming presence and had a knack for putting customers at ease whether on the shop floor or in the board room. Bill could have been the producer of the “Diners, Drive Inns and Dives”. He knew every “blue plate” special, unique, hole-in-wall restaurant in the region. Bill was one of the most complete people I have met. He was a devoted husband, even keeled spiritually, personally, and professionally. He could find the silver lining in any situation. I remember Bill as a man for all seasons. Some of things Bill enjoyed, were football, racing, being on the water and observing God's gifts in nature. Shannon's in Bryan lost one of it's most devoted patrons. Bill was one of the good guys. Rest in peace bud.
