“ Ebbie was a dear sweet soul who was loved by many. She may have only given birth to one child but she had many children whom she fostered with her friendship, guidance and love.

Ebbie, thoughts of you will come easily to mind each time I go to a rummage sale, attend the WSVFD fish fry or simply check my email. When the road got long you shortened it with laughter and smiles. Thanks for all the wonderful memories. You will be missed.

*Peace be with you Ebbie,
Lois*

“ The flowerbeds of Heaven just received a new gardener. Ebbie, my treasured friend and mother-in-law has passed away. There is peace in knowing that she was well cared for, that she was not in pain. She was loved to the last -- her wonderful longtime friends Dick and Mary Laakman were with her when she left this earth to tend the celestial begonia beds. If there was crabgrass in Heaven before, there won't be now! And the other angels will sing more sweetly, once they've tasted her Italian cream cake...

“ In the nearly 55 years that I knew her, I never knew her real name. She was always "Ebbie". Ebbie was one of the strongest, and most fun to be with, persons it has been my privilege to know. It is sad, and nearly impossible to think of a world without Ebbie.

Her ready smile, her famous (or infamous?) fishing "lessons" or poker "lessons", and her generous hospitality made any visit a joy. Ebbie always went all out to help others, even when she might not have felt up to it, and always without complaint.

Ebbie made not only my life, but the lives of countless others better with her always cheerfull outlook. Perhaps the best tribute to Ebbie would be for all of us to emulate Ebbie's bright outlook on life and to look for ways to help those in need.

“ dear Mary and Dick, I am so glad that Jack and I made the stop to visit Ebbie and to learn to know you two wonderful people. You were surely her daughter and son. I know Ebbie is in Heaven with her Bob and also talking with Jesus. I hope we can stay in touch as I have enjoyed your messaaages and thanks so much for keeping us up to date like you did.
