“ A great treasure we received in knowing and loving Blanche. She was uniquely special ! She was a wonderful person in all of her ways. She offered a calming acceptance of others through her gentle character; her ability in drawing others into her heart-- giving them a safe place being with her. She wasn't an ordinary person due to her ability in making this world around her shine so brightly. She showed an excitement or better described as her joyful manner that transferred to others so easily. This joy and love would remain with us after we left her every time.

When, in her presence, she shared stories from her past that demonstrated her strength in the most gentle way. I can't communicate who she is/was without stating her love for Christ. Blanche demonstrated the fruits of the Spirit through her love, joy, peaceful nature, always forgiving, kind, her goodness, faithfulness, and her self-control. She loved deeply.

Her second love was her husband (a wonderful man and father). She often shared memories of their lives together then would say "it was an adventure!"

She would never want to stop talking about her kids (3 of them and their many offspring's... "our further generations"). And at each time she would start bubbling up with laughter about what one of them did! She would say "them made me stay on my toes".

Blanche loved life! All of us who knew her have tears for our loss of her.. However, we can imagine the joy she will have at her arrival in her new home, through her favorite songs, praising her Lord and being with others who are waiting for her.

Blanche will live on through all of our hearts and thoughts.

Thank you, Blanche, for showing us who we can become through knowing you.

“ Blanche, Tootsie and myself were helping to chaperone Glenwood teens at Six Flags. I wanted to ride the roller coaster, but Tootsie refused, so Blanche and I rode together. Lots of laughs. Love the Daughtry. Jack Hooper
