“ I enjoyed being her visiting teacher for the last year. When I would visit her, we would talk for no less than an hour. We would talk about our families, like and dislikes. She would make me smile and we laughed together. My most favorite was when she had told me what she liked. So on her birthday that just passed, I took her some flowers. She said that she would rather enjoy them while she was still alive. I also got her Chinese food. She loved the fried rice, beef and broccoli, and egg rolls, so I got her that too. And her most favorite thing was chocolate shakes, which was also my favorite. I am so thankful that I got to know her. I will miss our long talk together. I know that Heavenly Father is proud of you, and I know that your family that have gone before you is there to welcome you home with open arms. RIP dear friend.
