“ Brad was one of the finest people I have met. I started working with Brad in 1995 and he was one of the finest craftsman I knew. One day Brad saw the cabinets come in from a shop out of town and said "I can build them better than that". I joked and said, "well, why don't you". It was 6 months later and Brad and his Son had their own shop in a storage room on 5th street. I never bought from another shop again. I was never a big builder but Brad always treated me like I was. He was honest to a fault and always understanding of others needs. At my last custom home Brad pulled me aside and told me he wanted to say his good-byes and gave me a hug and said he was thankful for the work I was able to throw his way and for being a friend and I thanked him for being a friend and doing such a great job all these years. He said the illness made him realize that alot of things were out of his control and he felt more at peace in his life.

I will always be thankful I had the opportunity to know Brad and deep inside I knew he was a man of God, I could see it in his eyes. He was a person put here to help the rest of us be better people.
