“ Clark was just a little kid when his parents worked with the youth group at FBC, Midland when I was in high school, but in 1989 he came to Abilene to attend HSU and became our adopted college student. For 4 years he was often at our house washing clothes, having a meal, and babysitting our kids who adored him. He never thought it was any trouble to take them for ice cream or to come by the house when we needed help with heavy lifting. We continued to see a little of him after he returned to Abilene to serve with Young Life, but we had lost touch as he moved on with starting his family. My brother, Michael, usually knew what was going on with Clark and his buddies and kept us up-to-date. Clark and his family have been in our prayers since we learned of his illness at Thanksgiving. He will always hold a special place in my heart and with my wife and kids as a fun-loving and sweet guy who made a big impact in our lives. We will miss knowing he is out there being funny and loving in this world. God bless you and hold you close.
