“ Uncle Don was more like a big brother than an uncle. However, when I was eleven and my own father passed away he was always there for support and encouragement. Quite talented as an artist and was quite a sport fisherman. Don always had interesting hobbies. I remember his train collection and using his unique artistic talents to build an amazing layout for display. Maybe, he was just a kid at heart but he was always fun. Thanks for the memories, I will carry them with me always.
