“ Uncle Darrell was a very good uncle to me. He and Aunt Nell stood with us during our toughest days. I have some very fond memories of him, and how he showed interest in people. I felt included in many thoughtful things he did with his own children, from my bicycle getting its new paint job, to a wooden dollhouse just like my cousin's. He always tried to make things better for those around him. My husband observed that he was gentleman and a gentle man. We will miss him.
