“ David Curry and I used to fight each other under the stairwells at Mattie Jones Elementary School at the end of a long school day. Then ten minutes later, when we arrived at our own homes, we would leave our house telling our moms that we were going to David's house. We would meet half-way and forget about all of that nonsense about our fight. Then we would play together until our moms gave us the last call to be at home. This is one of my best memories of David Curry.
