“ Jim had an impact on my life many years ago. Even though I haven't been around him nor seen him in years I have often thought about his infectious smile and personality. Those who knew Jim wanted to be around him. I am thankful for the opportunity to know him and for the time we spent together . May God comfort his family and friends in the coming days and years.

“ Met Jim when I worked for Insurance agcy in Kilgore, he'd often come in to visit some of the employees, he always had a smile on his face, and very personable. Vanessa you and your family will be in my prayers as you go through this most difficult time in your lives, but you will get through this, with the help of family & your great support people, without that I would have never made it. Just tuck those memories in your heart then bring them out whenever you feel blue they'll be there always, just know you were so loved by him. and you have your beautiful family to be by your side . If you need a shoulder, I am here for you my friend.

“ I met Jim several years ago while working at Honeywell in Bryan, Texas. Jim was one of the most honest, compassionate, and faithful people I have ever met. I never saw him down even when he found out about his diagnoses. He was always upbeat and always giving just the right amount of advice. He and I always talked about our families when we would go to lunch. He will be missed very much, we lost a very awesome man!! Jim

“ Ever since I've been with Air Liquide in Longview, Jim has always been a bright spot when he arrived for his regular visits. I could always look forward to seeing his big smile and bright personality. We had many discussions about work, home life and our faith as well. He helped my family when my son was diagnosed with cancer and was a such great example for showing my son what to expect through his treatments. I know now that my son maybe showing Jim around his new heavenly home where there is no more sickness. Prayers for all the family. Hank
