“ Janet entered my life through tennis last winter. I was immediately a better person when that happened. Her positive energy and open warmth left me feeling I had known her for years. In life it is not what people say or do but, how they make you feel that leaves a lasting impression. She lived that perhaps without knowing how much she could influence a life. I am at once sad for having lost a new friend and rejoicing that our lives touched. God bless and comfort you, Stacey, Herb and all the family.
