“ *I met Jerline through the Holt House Board. I know that served the members of Holt House for many years. One afternoon, she and I visited after taking care of some Board business and she shared loving stories of working along side her husband. She said with a smile on her face "He was the sweetest man." She was kind and giving, feisty when she needed to be, and she embodied the image of true Southern Woman with her blond pageboy and beautiful accent. It is very difficult to say goodbye to her. “ I served on the board of directors at Holt House with Jerline and she was one of the most gracious women I have ever known. I always loved to hear her Virginia accent.
