“ I was 14 years old when I first met my best friend, Carmon's, mom, Jewell. She was known as Mrs. "Spoon" to many of us back then. Not only was she a fantastic seamstress, an amazing cook, but also had a very special talent for growing the most beautiful flowers ever. We have very fond memories, our kids included, of spending time at their farm and sharing many Thanksgiving meals there. There was always the last minute rush to iron the linen and lace tablecloths that went on the table right before the beautiful meal.

Her last 15-20 years, Ernie and she, traveled extensively and enjoyed life together.

Love and Prayers to her family,

Lura Padgett

My dear Aunt Jewel was my mothers favorite sibling and friend. My first memories of her were when she and Uncle Woody lived on Orange St. in Beaumont. After going fishing with a big net Woody would sit outside on an overturned bucket and clean the catch. Jewel would fry the fish in the kitchen and we would all sit around the table and eat and laugh so much. I would get to spend the night with Carmon in her beautiful bedroom. Jewel was decorating even back then. 1948 or so. Aunt Jewel was always beautiful and a real lady. I will miss her. Julia Deen Becker Ball

“ Momsie was always so gracious and loving to a bunch of rowdy and typically muddy kids that descended upon her and Botchie. All while caring for him while he was ill. Such a loving woman! Please know me, Michelle, and Kent all wish we could be there, and you will be in our thoughts and prayers. Love all of y'all!! 💕

“ Jewell, a beautiful spirit she was and will always be. Full of creativity and excitement for every day God presented to her. I was in awe of her contagious energy as she faithfully went to water aerobics when she lived in Austin, TX some years ago. On occasion taking her there we visited, remembered and laughed until we couldn't laugh anymore. She has taken Gods hand and added her shining Jewell to the heavenly night sky.
Always in our hearts we celebrate her. Love to all, Richard and Janice Bell
