“ To the family,

Joe lived life the way it was meant to be lived. He decided to be happy, to have a great attitude, and to love his friends and family. He has been an inspiration in my life just from seeing his strength and will in high school. I use his stories as examples every year when I talk to my players about dedication, determination, loyalty, etc. We love y'all. We will miss him, but he is in a better place, and he is not hurting anymore! God bless you.

“ During Joe's fight with cancer, he was hospitalized at Mother Frances. One of my co-workers had the pleasure to meet him and later she told me,
"Joe is an awesome guy. He sets the example for terminal patients. He could really teach other patients how to be strong. He is just so funny and a really neat guy."
She enjoyed visiting with him and was in awe of how strong he was and the fight he had in him. She only visited with him once and she will never forget him. It's that damn charisma he has always had that shined through even in the worst of times.

*I know Joe will be missed, but never forgotten.
Your family is my thoughts and prayers. May God bless yall.*
