“ Jon, Kevin, and family~

I tried to send a message earlier, so please forgive me if this is a duplicate. I wish I was there to give you all hugs. Though the miles have divided us over the years, your family is still very special to me and I will always be indebted to the kindness you have shown me and the opportunities you provided me. There are so many fond memories of "taking care" of the boys ~~ most of which we can laugh at now!! After Andrew chose to take his life, people consoled us by saying we did everything we could for him--we talked to him, took him to counseling, prayed for him, supported and loved him... But even with these words of encouragement, we had our doubts and felt we should have done more. We had so much love to give him and that should have been enough. But now I am on the other side. Seeing how your family did everything to help your son/brother and knowing you should NEVER have any doubts or "what-ifs". We must now find comfort in our hearts to know that God had a plan for Andrew and Kurt, just as he does for us. Perhaps Andrew and Sharon were waiting at Heaven's gates anxiously awaiting to introduce Kurt to the Heaven's beauty and eternal salvation. They are no longer suffering. We must also call on Jesus to "please answer the door" when Satan knocks and tries to make us feel that we failed our loved ones. Our faith has definitely been tested over the last few months and I have come to question the statement "God never gives you more than you can handle." I must remind myself often that Andrew is now free of pain and suffering, as is Kurt and Sharon and they are preparing the way for us to one day join them. You will be in my thoughts and prayers. God bless Kurt.

“ Dear Jon and Kevin, We are so sorry to hear about the loss of your son and brother. I had the privelege of calling Kurt my best friend for 2 years in Jr. High School, we had some great times together. Although, Kurt and I did not stay in touch, time tends to put distance between friends, I highly valued his friendship and learned many valuable life lessons from Kurt. Please know that we are praying for Gods Peace that surpasses all understanding for your family during this very difficult time.

“ Dear Jon and Family,
It is with saddened hearts that we read the news tonight of Kurt's untimely death. We remember a darling little boy with big eyes running around the restaurant. It is so sad that we loose contact. Please know that our thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. May you soon remember only the good times with a warm heart and smile thinking of the good times you had together. One never thinks of loosing their children, and what a horrible loss it must be. God Bless.

“ Jon & Kevin:
I can remember when we all lived in simplier times, when there was not a care in the world other than when was the next pick-up football game, or whose house we would sleep over at this weekend. All that does not matter now. The world is not the same way it was a few days ago without Kurt. A great person, friend, and brother / son has been taken from us. Paula and I wish to send our deepest condolences. Our thoughts are with you at this most saddened time. Kurt was a great gentleman, and he will always have a place in our hearts and soul. Paula and I will always consider the Whattoff family some of our closest friends and allies. Please give our do respect to Kurt and his immediate relatives. GOD BLESS!!!!

“ I was walking down a Golden Path
And a stranger caught my eye
His joy radiated through his smile
I had to stop him for awhile

He emanated a sense of peace
That could only come from God
He could not contain his bliss
His story I didn't want to miss

I asked him about this serenity
He gracefully shared with me
When he was done I left in awe
Keep reading, you will see

This story is not a sad one
It is smothered with God's love
The year was drawing to a close
God watched closely from above

On the last day of the year
God had some surprises left in store
He saved them for some special souls
He was going to open Heaven's Door

One of his children was sometimes unwell
His mind haunted by a bipolar spell
He fought hard with his inner self
Sometimes his hurt he wished he could sell

God saw his pain and suffering
Showered him with compassion
Tried to shelter him from the storm
Filled his life with family affection

But God still felt his pain

*Wanted his sorrow to end
His bipolar disorder He wanted to mend
This precious child God tried to defend*

*God finally decided
He would bring him Home
But not until his child was ready
Not until his head and heart were steady*

*So God watched and waited
As he got his life together
His child was content
His soul was better*

*God gave him time with family
And on the last day of the year
It was decided the time was near
God's gentle voice, His child would hear*

*Without pain and a lengthy passing,
An Angel's wing swept His child away
He brought him through the clouds
A brand new life, a brand new day*

*Upon entering the Pearly Gates
His disorder evaporated
Hurt emptied from his heart
It was a breathtaking new start*

*This stranger that I met
Said that everything was perfect
There were no regrets
From heaven, his family he would protect*

*But, there was one thing left to do
That was to send this note to you
He wanted to let you know*

His life was now aglow

*?Do not be sad, do not weep
My life is now complete
I?m doing cartwheels in the sky
There is just no reason for you to cry*

*This is God?s astounding plan
Live fully and with joy, my family
With time do not compete
At Heaven?s gate, again someday we shall meet.?*

I was very sorry to hear about passing of your brother Kurt. I found out about this tragedy from Mork this past Friday (Jan. 5th) and sent a note via funeral home. Unfortunately my message didn't "transmit" so I'm trying again today.

Although I didn't know Kurt as well as you, I do remember him having the respect and admiration of other students and classmates in school both at Welch and Ames High.

He was a person that other kids looked up to.

I know this is a terribly hard time for you, your family and your Dad. My wife and I and our family experienced a very similar loss almost a year ago in February.

In times of anxiety, sadness and despair this simple passage from Matthew 11:28 has helped me...

"Come unto me all ye that are heavy laden and I will refresh you."

Feel free to contact me...I'd love to talk to you.

You and your family are in our thoughts and prayers.

“ To Kevin and the Whattoff family. I was truly saddened to see the news in our local Ames paper. Although I didn't know Kurt as well, I shared enough times with Kevin ("watty") back in the High Schools days that I felt compelled to at least write a quick note. I immediately had memories of the Whattoff family, the humorous Kevin, and the Amalgamated restaurant. I couldn't imagine if my brother's life was taken. It is so said to see such young people pass. I feel for you all, and have already said a prayer or 2 for you. Take care, Scott
