

Kyle Jones

January 21, 1974 - July 19, 2022

Kyle Jones, 48, of Tyler, Texas was taken home to Heaven on July 19, 2022.

Kyle was born in 1974 to Joe and Kathy Jones. He grew up in Tyler, Texas, and left Tyler to attend Texas Tech University where he loved it so much that he decided to extend his stay for several years.

Kyle loved all things food related and thoroughly enjoyed his job at Cisco/Acosta which involved his two favorite things, talking about food and fellowshiping with people.

Kyle was a beloved son who loved spending time with his family. He enjoyed Sunday dinners and was famous for his homemade mac-n-cheese. It was a requirement of every family function and the family was heartbroken if he did not bring his signature dish.

Kyle was a devoted single father to his son, Tye, and loved spending time with him, playing video games, cooking, going to the movies, and going to Ranger games! He also considered himself to be a second father to Kylee Freeman and loved spending time with his son's siblings as well.

Kyle was a loving brother and leaves an unimaginable void that we don't quite know yet how we will manage. We will miss his random inappropriate texts, his goofy phone calls, and his hilarious (horrible) dance moves. We aren't quite sure how we will move forward without talking food, sports, and old 80's and 90's movies with our favorite person.

Kyle was a loyal boyfriend who not only loved his girlfriend immensely but also loved her girls as if they were his own.

Kyle was an uncle to numerous nieces and nephews and he was hands down the favorite. Kyle never let an opportunity go by to not jump in on the fun, whether it be riding a hoverboard, giving wet willies or showing up for their games and/or events.

Kyle would want it noted that he was a two-time champ of his fantasy football league, Dereliction, and he totally believed he would steal the crown from his brother this year.

Last, but not least, Kyle was a friend to all. There is not a soul in the world that cannot vouch for how amazingly kind he was. Kyle believed in treating everyone with dignity and respect, never missing the chance to talk to someone about their day or ask how they were doing. His smile not only lit up a room but truly lit up the entire world. Known for his incredible smile, Kyle was also well known for his horrible dad jokes that he felt the need to tell over and over, no matter if he was the only one who thought they were funny. He was very skilled at making his Southern accent more drawn out if there happened to be a pretty lady around.

All that were privileged enough to know Kyle knew that he was the most genuine and compassionate human being. He truly encompassed what selfless kindness and servanthood looked like.

Kyle was eagerly met at Heaven's gates by his grandparents, momma, two nephews, and other special family members and friends.

“Do things for people not because of who they are or what they do in return, but because of who you are.”

“ Such a great guy. Wanted to share a couple of pics of KJ with our buddy Deron from my wedding in Lubbock. Such a beautiful spirit he will be missed by so many.

“ I remember laughing with Kyle as we saw something funny while sitting at the gym at Moore. He always had a positive comment or a joke whenever we saw each other about town. We shared tips about being single parents. He would share the happy moments he had just had with Tye. I think what will be missed most is his contagious smile. May you rest in peace Kyle.

“ Kyle had a fun loving personality. He was always kind and thoughtful. We talked about food, sports and anything new happening. He loved to talk about his son and his family. Kyle was a people person who never met a stranger. He will be missed by all of us. Tye your dad loved you and wanted you to have the best life. Remember him and shoot for the moon. Praying for all that loved him.

“ Had the honor of working with Kyle when he was my Guest Services Manager several years ago. Loved spending time talking sports and would find excuses to leave my office just to go spend some time with him during the work day. He was a great people person and I was devastated when he left for greener pastures.. Peace and blessing to Kyle's family and especially Tye.
