“ Cheryl, Dad and I spent many sharing times in the sunroom of their home. Coffee was poured, stories told, advice given and dreams and expectations shared. This was her favorite place to be. I miss her today terribly. It will never be the same without you Mom. I love you! Robin

“ Cheryl was my BFF in high school. You could say back then we were like peas and carrots lol. We spent every waking moment together practically. She was my soul sister. She was a bridesmaid in my wedding. After I got married and moved away from Mesquite, we lost touch with each other -no social media back then. But I found her on FB a couple of years ago and we met at a Quilt retreat a year ago last April and it was like peas and carrots again. We live quite a distance apart so I didn't get to see her as much as I would have liked. With health issues for both of us, we had to settle for texts and phone calls.

My heart is broken and sad for Keith, Pal, Amy and her children whom I never got to meet. My condolences to all of her family.

But she is free from pain now, and I like to believe giving quilting instructions to all God's robe makers!! Fly with beautiful wings my friend, until we are peas and carrots once again

*Love
Dianne*

“ I met 'Professor Cheryl' in July 2015, when interviewing at Tyler Pounds Regional Airport. She was planning to retire, and I was chosen to fill her shoes. Cheryl was very informative, while training me for approximately 5 weeks. She did not hesitate to correct me, nor did she ever hesitate to speak her mind. Cheryl was very bold, but very wise and kind by heart. She took many hours of her life training me to conduct FAA and TSA regulated assignments, and manage grants and contracts. Cheryl read through me quickly, though. She recognized my desire to learn, as well as my spirited readiness to jump ahead in her training. Her common phrase to me was, "Who is driving this car? You or me?". Thus, I began calling her by the name Professor during my training, and she kept that name through our visits, up to a few weeks ago when I last saw her in the hospital. Professor, you have now graduated to Heaven! Enjoy the peace and tranquility! With love, Jennifer Price.
