“ Our prayers and thoughts are with the Family at this time of a Great loss. May all the memories of the good times you shared bring you much comfort. Richard 'Dick' Armstrong was a very close and dear friend of Wayne's and as a result we had the pleasure of visiting in his and Lois's home in 1958 in Pasadena. Lois was most gracious. But as our assignments and travels took us in different directions we never had the opportunity to spend a lot of time together. However in 1965 when we had our second son Wayne wanted him named after Richard and that is what we did. We last visited Lois while she was in the hospital and in spite of what she had suffered she was very determined and still had unwavering Faith! She knew her life was in the Hands of GOD. We are very sorry that we will be unable to attend the funeral as we now live in Oregon where we moved a year ago to be next door to our daughter but our thoughts,prayers and Best Wishes are with you today.

“ I first met Lois when my very close friend, Cat, invited my daughter and me to celebrate Thanksgiving with her family in Utah. I was a single parent and my daughter was just five years old. We had no one to spend the holiday with and the Chapmans welcomed us into their beautiful home. For almost a week my daughter had a chance to see what real family was all about.

The hospitality began when Lois and Ben drove a considerable distance to meet us at the airport, and Lois presented us with an infectious smile and a thermos of fuzzy navels for the adults (am I supposed to say that?!) and a thermos of hot chocolate for my daughter. A room was prepared for us and we could not want for anything that entire week. Lois spent most of the time joyfully cooking amazing things like fried doughnuts and Belgian waffles and I don't know what all, but everything was absolutely scrumptious. I got a chance to hang out with Cat and her amazing brothers and sister, and my daughter spent a good portion of the time seated at the kitchen counter coloring and drawing pictures and chatting with Lois who very quickly became 'Grandma Lo'. I was involved in a bitter custody battle at the time and it really warmed my heart to see my daughter so happy, so engaged. Lois was so kind to her. I still have one of the crayon pictures my daughter drew of herself and Lois at Thanksgiving Dinner and they both have huge smiles on their faces.

We came to visit them for Thanksgiving several more times, whenever it was my turn to have my daughter for the holiday, and eventually it was even written into my custody agreement. It didn't seem like Thanksgiving without the Chapmans, but I remarried and was starting a new family and with it new traditions. I came one last time to Utah and brought my second husband, my daughter and my soon to be born little son with me. I think I wanted my husband to see the kind of family I wanted to be.

I will never forget how kind Lois was to my daughter and to me at a time when we really needed love and family support. She was so full of joy and I will miss her dearly; she was a great lady and a
