“ As many said at the graveside service today, Laverne was the perfect hostess. Everything was properly done, and you were made to feel special and appreciated. When Sam and I first joined Garden Oaks Baptist Church, she and Bob invited us to a 42 party at their house. They made it a special point to make all new members feel welcome, not only in the church, but also in their home. They showed wonderful Christian hospitality.

Laverne also never hesitated to let you know where she stood on anything. More of us today need to be steadfast enough in our beliefs to take a stand.

There will be many remembrances of her for me, and I feel so fortunate to have had her for a friend and teacher. I can only hope that I will reflect some of the influence she had on me.

“ LaVerne was a wonderful Sunday School teacher and a great friend. I enjoyed all my visits with her here in Houston as we traveled to our meetings together and the times we visited in her home in Bullard. She was a faithful Christian lady that was an inspiration to all she met. I loved her alot.

“ My heart goes out to LaVerne's children, whom she loved with all her heart. LaVerne and I had many long conversations about each child, what they were doing at the time, and what her hopes were for them. She was completely devoted to her husband Robert, her children, and the Lord Jesus. She took great pride in all their accomplishments, carefully sharing deeds great and small. She was devoted to her grandchildren and invested a great deal of prayer in each of them. She was unwavering in her testimony of what Christ meant to her personally and of her faith in God. What a wonderful legacy--a praying mother and grandmother! She was truly a Proverbs 31 woman. Though I have been a teacher for most of the past 50 years, LaVerne was my teacher during a difficult and painful period of my life. But I remember her best as my friend and a much loved one. I remember staying in the hospital with her when she fell out of a tree! She was trying to be a dutiful wife, hunting with Robert, but that tree was the end of her hunting days! I enjoyed planting flowers for her one spring after she had moved to Tyler. When Robert was taken after such a short time in Tyler, LaVerne carried on a running conversation with him while sweeping the garage with great intensity (his chore) and complaining that he left her too soon. She loved her church and demonstrated that love by faithful involvement. She loved her pastor and his wife, and often remarked that she had set aside any number of her books she knew he would enjoy when she was gone. I know with all certainty that she is in heaven today, making up for all those years she could not sing, praising our Lord. We will miss her, but look forward to a happy reunion in heaven.
