“Mrs. Martha B. Renshaw” that's how she introduced herself to me the first time we met. It has been a pleasure having Mrs. Martha as a friend. I learned alot from her about Decatur and her family contributions to the town. We had alot of laughs through the many phone calls that we had together. Mrs. Martha was always pleasant to visit with. She never said an unkind or harsh word toward me. She had many words of wisdom about the church, the president and the government. I am going to miss our weekly visits and hearing her life's advice. This is a quote from one of her letters to me: "We will all be seeing our Lord God soon, and an unforgiving heart is something we do not want to possess when we stand before Him. When you consider what Jesus did for us, there is nothing that can be done to us on this earth that we can't, in turn, forgive." Goodbye to a good friend. In our Lord Jesus, Love,
Kara
