“ I remember once when Betsy was teaching sessions on manners and she started helping a family corporation that had several family members who didn't get along with each other. Betsy's manners classes started being the place where the family started healing their relationships so that group of manners classes had a very happy ending --more than the family expected when they began. Please accept my condolences.

“ I just want you all to know how sorry I was to learn that my good friend Betsy had passed. We started going to dances together when we were around six or seven. Our mothers drove us to all of them. At one they dressed us up like George and Martha Washington. You can see why we were such good friends. I will always have good memories of our friendship.

Sincerely
