“ *Michael and Suzanne,
What I remember most about your mom is the high standards she set for her students. There was no doubt that she loved teaching World History. She was a quality teacher! She was also a good friend of my mother. She loved us and was always interested in our families as we married and had children. She will be missed. You will be in our thoughts and prayers.*

“ I knew Mrs. Walker when I was in Mr. Walker's band at Pittsburg High School. I did some babysitting for her. I knew her when she worked in the meat market at the local grocery store. I knew her when she was commuting to ETSU in Commerce working on her degree. She was a very hardworking and determined woman. I believe everything she did, she did well. Even though I did not keep in touch with her these past several years, I never forgot her. She was a very special person. I am glad that I crossed paths with the Walker family.

“ When I think of Ann, I remember a woman with innate dignity and grace. She not only built the history of the Whitehouse community, as chair of the history department, she taught generations of students important lessons about life that can be gleaned from looking at the past. Her lively conversations enthralled everyone who knew her. We will all miss Ann!

“ There are typically only a few people each of us meet in our lives that set the standard on how we judge certain things in our lives. On my Dad's side I have 8 uncles and 8 aunts. On my Mom's side I have 5 uncles and 5 aunts. Ann is the one that I can honestly say I have never heard a single person utter anything but greatness about. There have been several situations I have been faced with in life when I wanted to do the "right thing" and found the best way to get that answer was to asked myself "What would Aunt Ann do?" Each time I followed what I believe Aunt Ann would have done I was able to rest assured I did the right thing. Although I wish I would have told her sooner that she had this impact on my life, today I once again asked myself what she would do in this situation and the answer is obvious, I'm doing it now. Thank you Aunt Ann. I love you and the impact you have had on my life will continue.

“ I have known Mrs. Walker for most of my life. My dad, Raymond Thomas and Mr. Walker were fellow band directors and friends. Mrs. Walker was a very kind lady. She was always so sweet to our family and her memory will live on forever.

“ Ann Walker had a passion for history, a great love for her family, and the gift sharing both with all who knew her. She left a legacy at Whitehouse High School that will be remembered for many years. I enjoyed the years that Ann and I taught together and shared "B" lunch. She will be missed.
