“ He was my baby brother of the five children. We lived in Tyler on Wall St. My fondest memory is when our family received a Greenberg smoked turkey one evening near Christmas. Someone opened our front door, dropped a box in while saying, ho, ho, ho. All of us kids were so excited! Richard was around five or six years old. Everyone was in the kitchen but Richard and I were standing in the kitchen doorway watching Daddy unbox the surprise. When my dad pulled out and unwrapped that dark, smoked turkey, Richard let out a scream and started crying and shaking. Mother had to run after him, bring him back, and show him it was ok! Something yummy to eat! We never found out who gave us that turkey, but it was a blessing! Whom ever it was, gave me a wonderful memory to keep. ❤️ Lisa Ward.
