Stephen lived his life by two mantras: "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing" (Edmund Burke) and that we should respect, honor, and support our first responders and servicemen and women.

“ My sincerest condolences to Bo, Dolly, Zach, Chris W, and the extended family, nieces, and nephews (Jonathan and Martie). I will always remember "Coach Wolf." He had an incredibly beneficial impact on my life and I was fortunate to play soccer for Coach Wolf for many years. I recognize the important role, likely one of the most important roles, he had in creating a soccer program in Tyler. His contributions and positive impact on all those who had a chance to be on his teams, and know him, will continue on. He will be missed.

“ Steve had a profound impact on our family. We are saddened by the loss of such an awesome man - to his family and to the rest of us whose lives he touched. We will hang on to the memories from the many lunches with Steve long after soccer was over for our girls, lunches he rarely did not insist on paying for, as those times were very precious to us. Rest in Peace, our friend - keep them straight up there.

“As you look down from Heaven onto all of the fields you ever set foot upon, I hope you smile at the lives you have touched and the legacy you have left. May God place his hand on your shoulder and say, “Well done”.

I was not one of your “players”, more of a cheerleader. You would always give me a hug when I watched David play. That was a gift itself. 🙏❤️
