“ Terry,
We didn't see you often, but right away we could tell that you fit right into the family!
You and Diane were really good for each other. And her family all loved you and that meant a lot!
You will be missed but we will all see you in a better place one day.
Rest In Peace.

“ Terry we will miss you so much and we were both avid hunters. I will miss sharing hunting stories with you. The Native Americans called the great beyond or Paradise as "Happy Hunting Grounds" and heaven will be such a happy place and if anything can be greater than happy hunting it has to be great...see you when I get there....give Jesus a big hug for me.

“ Terry, even though we were so different ,we also were so much alike. I will miss knowing I could just text you to say hello. You were a brother that had so many talents that I didn't have, yet I had talents, and could do things you couldn't do. Together we could do almost anything and be anything we wanted. Thank you for being someone that had and independent mind, able to follow your own path and make your own mark in this world.

I am so happy you found Diane, You seemed to compliment each other in every way. I know she will miss you. You are so fortunate to have a loving family that cares so much for you. So I will say goodbye for now but plan to see you again. Joe
