“ What a handsome soldier! No wonder Cleone married him, even though from up North. I am from Chicago and get reminded of that on occasion. Cleone, both Dave and I are sick today and let me know where I can visit you in the next week or so. Anne wanted to know what Joey was doing.

“ I am so happy I was able to reconnect with Jack after all these years! He made a really big impression on me when I was only 5 and I never forgot him. I thought of him often over the years wondering what ever happened to that sweet man that let me play on the bread truck! The feeling I felt when I found out that pretty blonde girl Laura, was his granddaughter was indescribable. What an honor for me that this great mans family will soon be officially part of our family when Mason and Laura are married. Even though in my heart, ya'll already are family! I love all you Ludovico's and will miss Jack but, will forever cherish his memory in my heart.
